REMOVING EMBEDDED LETTER PATTERNS

SUSAN THORPE Great Missenden, Buckinghamshire, England

This is similar to the words within words game in which an embedded word is removed from a longer word to make a third word by joining the letters remaining at the beginning and end of the original word. For example, removing MEMBER from CAMEMBERT makes CAT. Instead of removing embedded words, the current exercise removes embedded tautonymic and palindromic sequences. Thus, respectively, when -in- (letter pattern 1212) is removed, REINING makes REG, and when -ill- (letter pattern 1221) is removed, CHILLIEST makes CHEST. Within each section below, the words are arranged, in order of priority, by the length of their removable sequences, by the letter patterns of the sequences and by the alphabetical order of the sequences. I have tried to find at least one word with a sequence beginning with each letter of the alphabet for each different length of sequence. Inevitably there are gaps. Words which are not hyphenated have been selected in preference to hyphenated words whenever possible. References can be found at the end.

REMOVING EMBEDDED DOUBLE LETTERS

The double letter, with the pattern 11, is both a tautonymic sequence and a palindromic sequence. Bing Crosby sang 'We're poor little lambs who have lost our way, baa, baa, baa', so if is fitting that removing AA from BaaING makes BING. Continuing with the removal of sequences beginning with b, c through to z:

b CRibbed-CRIED, NIBbled-NILE
d DAddY-DAY, MIddLE-MILE
f HUFFed-HUED
h TOWhhE (tough)-Towe (tough)

q RIqqS (Egypt. pipes)-RIS (rice)
s FOssIL-FOIL, TOssES-TOES
u BUSTuuS (see boisterous)-BUSTS
w B0wwARD (part of a key)-BOARD

A thought: BELLY dancing must be Turkey's phonetic BEY watch! Words with sequences of three or more like letters are almost invariably hyphenated and/or coined and have therefore not been included.
REMOVING EMBEDDED TAUTONYMIC SEQUENCES

Pattern 1212 LONENESS is a particularly good example because when the fragment -nene- is removed we are left with LOSS.

In the above, adding the letter S to COEFFEFFE enabled the removal of an embedded 6-letter f-sequence fffe- in addition to the e-sequence effeff-. Similarly, two different sequences were removed from CUBO-CUBO-CUBE. This ability of some words to deliver more than one removable sequence is drawn upon more heavily in the case of 10- and 12-letter patterns.

Removing either -icksmicksm- or -micksmicks- from SMICK-SMICK-SMACK makes SMAKE. Removing -tenostenos- from STENOSTENOSIS (Stedman) makes SIS. Removing -iddywiddyw- from WIDDY-WIDDY-WAY (a children’s game of tag) makes WAY. Removing either -hohohohoh- or -hohohohoh- from HOHOHOHOHOHOH (a noise made by a horse in Ulysses) makes HOH (an Indian people of the Olympic Peninsula). Removing either -bububububu- or -ububububub- from BUBUBUBUBUBUBU (the sound of flapping wings, in Dictionary of Jamaican English) makes BUBU (Pulliam). Removing -enzizeniz-, -nzizenize- or -zizenzizen- from ZENZIZENZIC (the square of a square of a square) makes ZENZIC (a square number).

Removing -phobiaphobia- from HYDROPHOBIAPHOBIAS (inferred pl. of word in Nov 1978 Word Ways) makes HYDROS. Removing -bubububububu- from BUBUBUBUBUBUBU yields BU (dial. bow). GLYCYLEGLYCYGLYCYGLYCYCLE lends itself to the removal of no fewer than 6 different tautonymic sequences of length 12! Either of the 4-way sequences -iikiikikiiik- or -kiikiikiiikii- can be removed from IKI-IKI-IKI-IKI-IKI-IKI-IKI-IKI-IKI-IKI-IKI-IKI (The Palindromicon) to make IKI (a Japanese island).

There exist a few even longer patterns. A 14-letter tautonymic sequence can be removed from COodie-coodie-co0 (a coined term of endearment) to yield CO0. Methylethylethylene (a 3-way sequence) reduces to MENE (an old word for fellowship). The 16-letter tautonymic sequence -igmoidosigmoidos- can be removed from SIGMIDOSSIGMIDO-STOMY to yield STOMY (which may only exist as a combined form).

The following poem makes use of the removal of embedded 4-, 5- and 6-letter palindromic sequences:

The prison's DINETTES are renowned for their DINS.
FINESSES are absent, the fish served with FINS.
FETTERED to his chair, convict 666, FRED,
Eats fish which is MOTTOED 'Straight from the MED'.

He GUESSES the oil level, slipshod is our GUS.
On finding he's FUELLESS, he makes such a FUSS.
He phones the FUELLERS, clad in their FURS;
Their name is 'SIROCCOS' but they prefer 'SIRS'.

He works hard as a PATISSIER does our PATER
But in his spare time he's a GAZETTEER GAZER.
Way back in the '60s a HIPPIE was HE
Which is just what our BILLIE aspires to BE.

Free love—that's what BILLIE'D declared in BED
But his brother WILLIE'D said he should WED
His BREWERESS—she's a lass called BESS.
Oh, didn't I tell you? She's PREGGERS--P.S!

In some cases, palindromic sequences of differing lengths can be removed from the same word. We met ETIENNEITE earlier and saw how removing the 6-letter sequence -een-nei- made ETTE. But it is possible to go one step further and remove the 8-letter sequence -tieneit- to make EE. Other words which lend themselves to a double removal include

REDIVIDED less -ivi- makes REDDED, less -divid- makes REED FOOTSTOOLED less -otsto- makes FOOLED, less -ootstoo- makes FLED 00LOOPOOLOO (Pittapittic language spoken in Queensland) less
-oopoo- makes OOLLOO (place in Northern Territory, Australia), less
-oopoo-poo- makes OO

KINNIKKINNIK less -nnikkin- makes KIIK (town in Kazhakstan), less
-innikkin- makes KK (see above)

TATTARRATTAT less -tarrat- makes TAT-TAT, less -ttarratt- makes TAAT

SINRAMMARNIS (Brooklyn oil company) less -nrammarn- makes SIIS (2nd person singular of see), less -inrammarni- makes SS

A few words are even amenable to a triple removal operation. For example, AKATAKATAKA (Mangareva: to fish all day or all night with the line) less -takat- makes AKA祖父 (a small town south of Auckland), less -atakata- makes AKKA (a race of pygmies in Zaire), less -katakata-makes AA.

THE ULTIMATE IN REMOVALS?

There exist two words with which it is a delight to play the removals game, not least because neither of the words is a palindrome. Both are unusual in having long embedded palindromic sequences made of only two different letters of the alphabet. The first, WINNINNIE (a location in South Australia), has a 9-letter palindromic sequence composed of the letters I and N. Removing the central 5-letter sequence -ninin- makes WINNIE. Removing the entire 9-letter sequence makes WE. But the second word, BALLILILLY (Scot: a lullaby), is undoubtedly 'king of the removaals game' because it allows the removal of tautonymic sequences as well as palindromic ones, with surprising results. It has an 8-letter palindro-ic sequence composed of the letters I and L which when removed results in BAY. Removing either of the two overlapping identical 5-letter palindromic sequences -liill- makes BAILLY (var. authority). Removing the palindromic/tautonymic sequence -liilll- makes BALLY (Brit. slang, an euphemistic word for bloody). But BALLY can also be made by removing the 6-letter tautonymic sequence -llilll-. And removing the different 6-letter tautonymic sequence -llilll- provides yet a third way of making BALLY. So now you have it on good BAILLY that BALLILLILLY is a BALLY remarkable word!
