Faculty Spotlight: David Mason

Professor emeritus David Mason was recently interviewed by a Chinese radio station concerning his expertise on public opinion research in China. Dave was one of our first Digital Commons contributors, so we are excited to see his participation pay off! It's also notable that the co-authored piece that very likely led the radio station to Dave was published more than 20 years ago. This example underscores how the Digital Commons can give old scholarship new life by presenting faculty work to a new global audience.
