The Charter of this Institution authorizes its Board of Directors to organize Colleges for Literature and Science, Law, Medicine, and a Normal School. The following Departments exhibits the Course of Study required for Graduation in the College of Literature and Science, and Law. Additional Departments will be organized as the exigencies of the Institution may demand.

Prof. A. R. BENTON, President.

To this Department belong the Evidences of Revealed Religion, Moral Philosophy and the Bible.

For the present, Logic, Rhetoric, Intellectual Science, and Political Economy will be taught in this Department.

The Charter of the Institution, requires the Bible to be taught as a Class Book, but forbids the inculcation of sectarian or partizan dogmas; and to attain this end, each Student will be required to attend a Bible Class every Monday morning.

In Greek are read Xenophon's Anabasis and Memorabilia, Herodotus, Demosthenes, Homer's Iliad, and Sophocles. Thucydides and Plato are elective. Hebrew is also taught to those desiring it.

II.—MATHEMATICAL DEPARTMENT.

Prof. W. M. THRASHER, A. M.

The Studies in this Department are Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Plane and Spherical, Surveying, Conic Sections, Mechanics, Analytical Geometry, Calculus and Astronomy.

Special instructions will be secured to any who may pursue the subject of Surveying, with a practical object in view.

The Text Books in this Department will be illustrated by Experiments, Charts, and Diagrams, and the whole Course will be accompanied by Lectures and full expositions, of the principles taught.

In the last term of the year, a Course of Lectures will be delivered on Chemistry in its application to Agriculture and the Mechanical Arts.

IV.—DEPARTMENT OF MODERN LANGUAGES AND LATIN.

Prof. S. K. HOSHOUR, A. M.

In this Department, the German and French Languages are practically and availably taught. In both languages the most approved Text Books are used—such as Woodbury's Method with the German—his successive readers and in order to familiarize the Student with the business part of the language, a weekly German Newspaper is, for a time, introduced, and carefully studied.

In the French, Fasquelle's Course is adopted, and at a suitable stage of the Student's progress, a French Journal is also made a subject of study. The whole course for each language comprises two years. Classes will be formed only at the opening of each College year.

In Latin are read Cæsar, Virgil, Cicero's Orations, Horace, Livy, Cicero's Amicitia and Disputations, Tacitus, and Plautus.
