DICTIONARY LIMERICKS 3

Max Gutmann
Sunnyvale, California

The word am is a form of "to be"
Focused first-person-singularly,
Which is probably why
It’s so popular. I
Think it’s peachy. It’s all about me!

On a substance in egg yolks, cholesterol,
U.S. health care providers still pester all.
Because some Yanks are slim,
Full of vigor and vim,
But it’s vein-clotted lard tubs the rest ‘re all.

A floozy (it's sometimes spelled floosie)
Is a woman's who isn't too choosy
About which Dick or Fred
She makes room for in bed,
And I hear that your sister’s a doozy!

Something maculate’s covered in spots.
If it’s you, I sure hope what you’ve got’s
Not a fatal disease!
Don’t be maculate. Please
Try to keep up-to-date on your shots.

To a dad who's a tiger, a bearer
(That means mom, to more clearly declare her)
Who's a lion, one morn
The fierce tiglon was born,
It's quite rare. But the chimplon is rarer.

When you waylay, you sit and you wait,
Then attack. And what waylayers hate
(From beginners to those
Who are waylaying pros)
Is a victim who’s chronically late.

The familiar and popular yes
Is a word that is used to express
One’s assent with no hitch.
(That’s a tendency which
My teen daughter should learn to suppress.)