Butler University
is a small private college located in Indianapolis and seeking eager students interested in studying in one of the 59 majors ranging from accounting to zoology. For approximately 4,000 full and part time students Butler offers a great deal of diversity. Butler students represent the majority of the United States and 12 foreign countries. Butler has a beautiful campus which covers 290 acres. There are over 20 buildings to serve students' needs and scenic attractions include Holcomb gardens, the canal, the newly added mall, and the observatory. Also on campus students can gather at the C-Club or in their housing units. The housing units include three residence halls and 14 Greek houses.

1991 Homecoming successful

"Cheers to the Years"

The festivities for Homecoming 1991 were entitled "Cheers to the Years," and this homecoming was one to cheer about. The festivities began Friday, October 11 at noon with Marriott food service providing "Lunch by the Pond." Instead of the usual meal inside Resco or Atherton cafeterias, students and faculty dined under a tent overlooking the pond where the Carillon stands, at the rear of Clowes Hall.

This year the rivalry between the classes was settled by the freshmen during Class Competitions. The senior class volleyball team was defeated by the freshmen.

Later in the evening, after Freshmen Skits, students were awed by the fireworks display. Preceding the display were the introductions of the Butler Bulldog football squad and the candidates for homecoming king and queen. This homecoming featured the debut of a homecoming king.

Two students find a quiet spot away from the excitement and clamor to the pep rally to sit and watch the fireworks display in private.

selection.

For a break from the chilly October night a bonfire was made on the grass outside of Lilly Hall. In addition, to get the crowd moving a deejay played dance hits, keeping the upbeat mood of the evening going.

Early Saturday morning, the Sigma Chi’s and the Phi Delt’s raced up West Hampton Drive in the annual chariot race. The Phi Delta Theta men pushed ahead to the Sigma Chi team to victory. Later that day a new king and queen were crowned at the Homecoming Game. Tom Debolt of Lambda Chi Alpha and Kristin Doss of Kappa Alpha Theta were the reigning monarchs this year.

The pinnacle of Homecoming Weekend was the Bulldogs vs. Wayne State football game. The Bulldogs came away with a 42-7 victory thanks to the game plays of wide receiver Eric Voss, quarterback Paul Romanowski, and receiver Kevin Kimble.

Overall, the 1991 Homecoming unified Butler Students and provided great entertainment and distraction from the rigors of college academics.

Freshman Skits

Flower children of the sixties convince the women of Delta Gamma that Butler University is the best place to go to college.

Madonna and the Energizer Bunny were just a few of the surprises that appeared on stage at Freshman Skits. Students from ten different housing units strove to create acts which carried out the Homecoming theme “Cheers to the Years”. The finished skits ranged in variety from Kappa Kappa Gamma’s parody of the television show Cheers to Phi Kappa Psi’s portrayal of “Wayne’s World” from Saturday Night Live.

Many skits also took a historical look at Butler’s past from the 50’s, 60’s and 70’s.

Judged on criteria such as originality and tastefulness, the Kappa Alpha Theta skit won first place. It was a nostalgic look at Butler from the 50’s through the 90’s. Alpha Chi Omega was awarded second place with a skit showing how Butler graduates once spent their free time. Third place was given to the Alpha Phi's, whose skit depicted homecoming victory celebrations from the 20's, 60's and 90's.

In the end, the show was a great success in helping stir up pre-game Homecoming excitement.

Bathroom conversation was the basis of the Delta Tau Delta skit. While the coarse humor may not have scored high in tastefulness, the freshmen did get many laughs from the audience.

Broadway style song and dance routines and Saturday Night Live style skits characterized Geneva Stunts, an annual all-campus event that entered its seventy-second year at Butler University.

honors. Once again Clowes Hall, where the Stunts are held, vibrated with talent. This year’s winners were the women of Pi Beta Phi and the Men of Phi Kappa Psi. The theme of their skit was “Where’s Waldo?” based on the popular series of children’s books and it Saturday morning cartoon spin-off. Taking the nod at second place were Alpha Chi Omega and Phi Delta Theta performing a spot with a Jungle Book theme. Elvis Presley swung down on a vine to join the act. Finally, in third place was the Residential College and the commuters performing “In the Mood”. This Forties gangster movie inspired act revolved around mobsters’ search for priceless jewels. In addition to having the winning act the Phi Psi’s and the Pi Phi’s took home the spirit award, based on advanced ticket sales and the banner competition.

Butler alumni and community members judged the competition. Oh, so you ask from where is the name Geneva Stunts derived? The original Geneva Stunts was created as a fundraiser for YMCA members to attend a National Christian Leadership Conference held in Lake Geneva, WI. I bet you’ve been waiting for years to discover that fact.

National recognition for Jordan College

"One of Butler's Finest"

The Jordan College of Fine Arts is recognized throughout the United States as a distinguished division of Dance expertise. For many years this division of Butler has produced many fine artistic or dance, musical and theatrical performances. These students are not only accomplished in their particular study but also in the other major areas of a college education such as English, philosophy, and sociology. With such a strong background the graduates of Butler University's College of Fine Arts have a distinguished record of bringing great performances to Butler. The performances are viewed as educational and cultural experiences to all of Butler's students; but, particularly to the students in the Fine Art College. As a part of the 1991-92 Soviet Arts Week, Butler University was fortunate to have "Boris Godnuv" perform at Clowes. "Boris Godnuv" being a ballet that many only dream of having the opportunity to view. The ballet segments for the upcoming year promise to be as intriguing as they have been in the past.

Celebrity Spectacular

Spring Sports

The second annual Spring Sports Spectacular was a great success due to the widespread participation and attendance of Butler students.

The event began at 8 p.m. Friday, February 28 and lasted until 8 a.m. Saturday. Hinkle Fieldhouse was filled with fun and excitement as housing units challenged each other in competitive sports.

The contests ranged in variety from basketball and volleyball to food relays and tug-of-war. Students were not the only ones to be active in these events. President Bannister joined in the fun by competing in the inner tube race and the pool tournament. Henry Lee Summer, Razor Shines from the Indianapolis Indians, and Bill Brooks from the Indianapolis Colts were a few of the stars to participate in the celebrity basketball

At the end of the event, first-place titles were awarded to the teams which had accumulated the most points. This year's first-place winners included ties between the fraternities of Tau Kappa Epsilon and Delta Tau Delta, and the sororities of Alpha Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Sponsored by Program Board, a division of S.G.A., the Spring Sports Spectacular turned out to be a successful event. Monica Method, the event's creator and organizer, said, "I was happy that everything went smoothly since 1,200 people attended. I was very satisfied with the way it all turned out."

Butler Football

The Butler Bulldogs finished with an impressive 9-2 record and ended their season at the NCAA Division II play-offs. The 1991 football season drew quite a following and proved to be one of their best seasons ever.

In season play, the Bulldogs managed two shut outs against Northern Michigan and Grand Valley State, 28-0 and 33-0 respectively. The team played quite an exciting season and went virtually unmatched by any opponent they were up against, including, of course, University of Indianapolis in the annual Top Dog game which we won 22-3. Butler completed season play in the No.5 spot on the NCAA Division II football poll, marking the highest national ranking ever for the Bulldogs.

Along with boasting a terrific season, the Bulldogs matched or bettered eight individual school records, with Paul Romanowski bettering four of those and matching one. Romanowski was also named as the team's most valuable defensive player and was among six of our Butler men to be named to the First Team of the MIFC All-Conference squad. The other five being Todd Larson, Kevin Kimble, Kevin Johnson, Dax Gonzalez, and Dave Kathman.

Many other team members were recognized as well. Senior Dennis Springer was named recipient of Butler's Hilton U. Brown Mental Attitude Award and three Bulldogs; Brad Cougill, Paul Romanowski, and Ruben DeLuna, were all named Academic All-Conference. With all these individual and team achievements, the season added up to one exceptional time and the Bulldogs will certainly be a force to reckon with in the coming season.

Men's Soccer

Butler saw its' third season for men's soccer and the new addition of women's soccer as well. The men entered into the MCC tournament as the No. 4 seeded team and wrapped up their season with a record of eight wins, nine loses, and one tie. For the third straight year teammate Scott Lawler was the leading scorer with 11 goals and two assists. Lawler was also named to All-League and All Tournament Teams.

As for the Women's soccer team, their biggest job next season will be trying to top their own act. On their first season out the women ended with a record of ten wins, seven loses, and one tie. They also claimed NCAA Division I victories over Wisconsin-Green Bay and Louisville. Thirteen out of the 15 players had at least one goal and freshman Chris Johnson led the team in scoring with seven goals and 12 assists.

Head Coaches Bryan Blitz for the women and Langdon Kumler for the men's team, certainly deserve a hand for leading both soccer teams into a successful season. Good luck to both the men's and women's teams in the next season.

Men's Swimming

An Early Morning Swim

An early morning dip in the pool is not a thought for most college students. However, for the men’s swimming team this became an everyday practice. “At first it seemed almost impossible to get up that early everyday but after awhile I got a little more used to it,” explained Matt Burden.

The time of these practices may not have been a favorite by the swimmers but that didn’t stop them from working hard at each one of them. This hard work eventually paid off as captains Paul Newsom and Brian Boyle led the team to receive fifth place in the conference. Coach Steve Maxwell was very pleased with the team. He felt that their placement in conference was proof of their good year.

Another honor for the team was Paul Newsom’s recognition as Conference Swimmer of the Year for the second year in a row. No other swimmer had ever been given that award two years in a row.

In addition to these awards, the men’s team contributed to the breaking of twelve school records between the men’s and women’s teams combined.

The many accomplishments of the men’s team was proof that taking a swim in the early morning is not necessarily a bad thing.

Women's Swimming

Records! What Records?

"Honor" and "award" became everyday terms for the women's swimming team. However this recognition did not come easily. It was the result of a lot of hard work.

"I am very pleased with the girl's results; numbers have increased and performances improved," complimented Coach Steve Maxwell.

Captains of the team were Tracey Thomson and Mindy Bodin. The team placed third in conference which was an improvement from the previous year. In addition, Maxwell was awarded “Conference Coach of the Year”.

The swimmers set a variety of university records. Maggie Skibba broke the 100 and 200 meter breaststroke record as well as the 200 and 400 meter individual medley relay. Dyan Lodde broke records for the 100 and 200 freestyle. These were only a few of the many records broken.

Hard work and dedication paid off for the girl's team. Many of the records they set will remain for years to come.

The 1991-1992 women's basketball season ended with a record of 14 wins and 15 loses. Although that record may look discouraging, looks can be deceiving. In reality, the season proved to be filled with many highlights and personal achievements.

The lady Bulldogs started off on the right foot by earning points in the USA Today poll during the first two weeks, setting the tone for the lady's first few wins. Keeping up with those high expectations, nine of the 14 squad members ranked in the top 10 MCC performances throughout the season.

Lead by fourth year head coach, Paulette Stein, the lady's team consisted of a good mix of seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, all of whom contributed and left their mark on the 1991-1992 season. Lone senior Leslie Miller exits the team having played all but one game in her four year college career and Miller also claims the No. 11 slot on the all-time career scorers list. The season also seemed successful for junior Julie VonDeilingen. VonDeilingen, who lead the team as the highest season scorer, was named not only to the GTE Academic All-District 5 Team but also to the First Team All-MCC. Juniors Brandi Kimble and Mary Majewski were also season leaders. Kimble boasts the highest free throw scorer and Majewski led the team in assists, steals, and three-point shooting.

As far as younger portion of the squad is concerned, sophomore Angela Cotton was second only to VonDeilingen in scoring, started in all 29 games, and set eight new career marks. Freshman Liesl Schultz also made her presence known by leading the squad with 33 blocks for the season.

All in all the team did a great job during the past season and will only continue to improve. With such a strong returning squad the lady Bulldogs will certainly be a team to watch for in the 1992-1993 season.
Men's Golf

The men's golf team had an exceptional showing on the greens during the 1991-1992 season. Especially for freshman transfer Brett Atkins who wound up with the Bulldogs top scoring average, the second straight year the top average was attained by a freshman rookie. Atkins had an average of 78.2 and also tied for fourth at the MCC championship winding up with all conference honors.

Sophomore Travis Richey posted a 78.8 average and finished second on the team among players with at least ten rounds. Other notable golfers include Trent Stuckey and Chad Hutshall who tied with a 80.0 average. Stuckey also earned all conference honors with an eleventh place finish at the MCC championship.

The lady spikers ended with a record of 16 wins and 17 loses with a fourth place finish in the league. These ladies began the season with quite a few team veterans and added to that some outstanding freshmen. One of which was freshman Stephanie Wesley who was named to the MCC All-Newcomer Team. Wesley was also the recipient of the Most Improved Player Award.

Other team awards were given as well. The Best Attitude Award went to Renee Wayt and the Most Valuable Player was Kristen Kelly. It is definitely not hard to see why Kelly is such a team asset since she holds the fifth place mark on Butler’s career chart with 1,181 digs and the sixth place mark with 811 kills and 2,347 attempts.

In MCC Tournament play, the ladies lost in the second round to Notre Dame after winning Dayton in the first round. The lady spikers did however have three players named to MCC All-Conference teams. Wesley, as mentioned earlier, and Sharon Krumpolz were named to the MCC All-Newcomer Team and Jessica Taylor was named to the All-MCC First Team and All-Tournament Teams.

Starting Over

"Building form scratch is the way to build an outstanding team."

The Women's Cross-Country and Track teams experienced a vital change during the 1992 seasons. The changes began with a new coach, Joe Meadors, a Butler alumnus.

Coach Meadors took on the challenge of coaching two of Butler's teams this year, the Women's Cross-Country and Track teams.

Coach Meadors is given the credit of having helped develop and start the Women's Track program at Butler approximately four years ago. Therefore, it seems only appropriate that he come back into the focus of the teams new beginning.

The Lady Bulldogs second experience with starting over came about when the number of freshmen and sophomores overshadowed the number of returning upperclassmen to both the Cross-Country and Track program.

Nevertheless, because of the dedication and team effort the Lady Bulldogs stuck it out through both seasons. Many ladies expressed that "they learned a lot, and will come back better than ever next year."

Teresa Mask, a third year athlete, on the Women's Cross-Country team, succeeded in having another interesting year.

"I began the year with a little apprehension to the change in coaches, but I made due and finished the season."

Mask completed the season with a personal best in her three years of Cross-Country competition at the collegiate level.

Several of the Bulldogs' returning track runners also proved to have very productive seasons.

Shelly Bruner, a middle-distance runner, continued to be competitive in the 400-meter dash.

Bruner was able to reap rewards from her hard work during practices, as well as meets.

Both the Women's Cross-Country and Track teams have a promising future.

Men's Tennis

Playing with the Big Boys

The men's tennis team proved that being young is not always a disadvantage. The team consisted of five freshmen and two sophomores. "For being such a young team they have done very well," stated Coach Charlie Daus.

The team ended up with a strong second to Notre Dame in the conference. However, Notre Dame was only one of the many challenging teams they played. "The boy's success gave them the confidence of being able to play with 'The Big Teams','" added Daus.

For being fairly young, the Butler men's tennis team proved themselves very talented. The team members hoped that with two or three more years to play, they will become one of the most challenging teams in the conference. They began the first step toward their goal this season.

Women in Progress

According to coach Charlie Daus, the women's tennis team came a long way this season. The team was fairly young with only one senior, Jennifer Grimm. It also consisted of three unexpected walk-ons. The girls took fourth place in the MCC conference championship and ended up with a 5 and 9 record as a team.

Daus was very pleased that one of the team's top players was the runner-up in conference and two more took third place in their division.

Catherine Smith held the best singles record of 11 and 6. The best doubles record was held by Smith and Heather Burkhart, 6 and 4. Grimm led the team as captain.

Overall it was a year of hard work and improvement for the women. Daus explained that most importantly, "they have made a lot of
Men's Baseball

Losing Streak--Broken

Every team falls into an occasional losing streak which seems difficult to break. However, a 17 year losing streak seems almost impossible to overcome. That was the goal of the men's baseball team at the beginning of the season.

Steve Farley was the new coach who inherited a somewhat small team. "It was a year for building the team and improving attitudes and spirits," stated Farley.

The coach's new tactics combined with a lot of dedication and hard work from the players produced the first winning season in seventeen years. The team won over twenty games, a feat that had not been accomplished for many years. In the MCC conference they lost in the last round.

Captain and most valuable player for the season was Matt Merica. Scott Metzinger was chosen as the most valuable pitcher and Andrew Cornell was best incoming freshman.

The men's baseball team accomplished the difficult task of overcoming a long period losing streak. This was done with a lot of hard work and a new team spirit. "It was a hard year, but a year of adjustment," claimed player, Doug Towriss. These adjustments proved to be very successful in bringing the first winning record in 17 years.

Injuries Lead to Disappointment

One word to describe the women's softball team's season was disappointing. According to coach Barb Greenburg, the scoreboard may have shown a disaster in wins and losses but it was the legitimate reasons behind the scores which made the year a disappointment.

A loss of players due to injuries and other various problems was a major contribution to the year. The team's top pitcher and leading hitter, Missy Melton was taken out near the beginning of the season due to an injury. This combination of numerous problems resulted in an unexpectedly bad season.

In addition to all of these difficulties, the team was a fairly young one. It consisted of five freshmen. Greenburg claimed that having that many freshmen was good because they brought a new enthusiasm and spirit to the team. However, they lacked the experience of upperclassmen.

The highlight of the season was the team's win over Notre Dame. They also split wins with all the other conference teams except Detroit Mercy (who took first in the conference).

Dawn Stavitzke was captain for the team. Pitcher and first baseman, Stacy Wilson was chosen, most valuable and best offensive player. Second baseman, Wendy Greenburg was best defensive player for the season.

Although the women's softball team may have had high hopes in the beginning of the season, uncontrollable circumstances made it a disappointing year. Greenburg stated, "the combination of youth, injuries and other problems made this an unexpectedly difficult season."

Cheerleaders
On Their Way

The 1991-92 Men's Basketball team is recognized on the small private campus as the up and coming team of the nineties. This team has had an opportunity to grow together both mentally and physically. A great deal of the team's success could be attributed to an equal balance of skill and effort from all of the players, regardless to how much time on the floor. To the surprise of the student body, one key player was Michael Wilson. Throughout the entire season Wilson demonstrated agility and pizazz that not many people were aware that he possessed. "I am glad I had a chance to see Mike do so well this year, I remember years in the past when Michael was not given a chance to strut his stuff!" commented Letitia Beckett, a friend of Wilson. The efforts exhibited by guards Jermaine Guice, sophomore and Tim Team Picture:

Bowens, junior, as well as forward John Taylor, sophomore, helped to contribute to the Barry Collier strategy of quick passes and fast breaks. Many students did not expect to see much of Guice during the season due to an early injury. But to the amazement of all, Guice's determination allowed him to return to the scene much earlier than expected. Overall, the Butler Bulldog season was outstanding, all of the players exhibited pride, endurance, and school spirit. Aleshea Word, a Butler student, commented "It is great to see the Bulldogs doing so well, I can't wait to see the team next year."

Last but not least Darin Archbold must be acknowledged for his four years of intense training and hard work. To him a wish of great success and to the 1992-93 Men's Basketball team, the best is yet to come.

Organization is the key to Success

Looking for something to do? Have some free time on your hands? Would you like to meet someone who shares your interests? Then why not join one of Butler's many organizations.

There are many organizations to choose from. If you are interested in something from your major many majors have their own clubs and honoraries. Would you like to donate your time to a worthy cause? Then why not try Circle K, YMCA, or any of the other service organizations. Do you want to see your words in print? Write for one of the college publications such as the Collegian, The Drift, or Manuscripts. Does meeting people who share your religious beliefs interest you? Try Campus Crusade for Christ, the campus ministry, or one of the many other groups. Do you like to have a say in the way things are run? Then student government is for you.

You say you just want to join an organization to have fun? Well there are plenty of those types of groups around too. In fact Butler offers everything from the mountain bike club to chess. Whatever your interests are there are plenty of choices for you. If you are interested just contact the Student Activities office and they will help you find what you are looking for.

marching band

For the first time in Butler's Marching Band history a female lead the way as drum major. Traci Siple, a senior music education major accepted the role with much enthusiasm.

The drum major is responsible for not only leading the band during performances but also motivating the members and keeping spirits high. Siple began playing the flute in fourth grade and began marching in her high school marching band when she was in ninth grade. She has marched for Butler for two years.

Siple said that being a drum major was a good learning experience since she plans on being a director of a band after graduation. "Someday I'll be a band director," she said. "Now is a good time to gain experience."

She also enjoys having broken the tradition of a male drum major. "I have no problem being the leader in a group of several males," she said. "They respect me. Actually it's cool. It feels good (to be a leader) in a male dominated world."

"Aaaargh!!" Band director David McCullough goes head to head with the Butler mascot as the students play at the alumni banquet before the Homecoming Game. Mr. McCullough's antics helped keep the members' spirits high.
Organizations
Symphonic orchestra

New directors took over the podiums for both the symphonic orchestra and the symphonic wind ensemble, causing many changes in the instrumental music department.

David McCoullogh, who was hired in 1990 to be the marching band director, added the responsibilities of wind ensemble director to his job. McCoullogh accepted the position for one year so that an extensive search for a permanent director could be conducted.

McCoulogh made many changes to the program throughout the year including the creation of a symphonic band, a combination of symphonic wind ensemble and concert band members. This new ensemble performed during two of the spring concerts.

Stanley DeRusha took over the orchestra after long time director Jackson Wiley retired. A graduate of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and the University of Wisconsin-Madison, DeRusha has an impressive conducting career including two years as a professional conductor in Columbia, South America. DeRusha has also made significant changes and has revitalized the orchestra. He removed many of the non-student members from the orchestra and at his urging had the practice rooms moved to Robertson Hall.
Chorale on their European tour.

Chorale doing their show on their European tour.
"The hills are alive with the sound of music," or so the song says and the Butler University Chorale could not disagree with Rogers and Hammerstein’s great musical “The Sound of Music.” The Chorale’s 1991-1992 tour was spent wandering the Austrian countryside where they took in the sights, shops, tastes, and smells. Performances were given in many towns including Bergkirche and Salzburg, setting that great 20th Century Fox film.

After leaving Austria, they toured Italy as part of an Italian Music Festival with choirs from several countries. They sang an entire program of songs with repertoire that had a range from Bach to Stravinsky, with styles from the far ends of the curriculum. The entire tour only lasted 5 days in May, but the experience was an eternal one.

Before their European tour, the Chorale performed in Butler’s Soviet Arts Week in October in "Alexander Nevsky" along with the Butler Ballet and the Indianapolis Chamber Orchestra. The annual "Rejoice" concert at Saint Peter and Paul’s Cathedral in Indianapolis where they were joined by the Butler University Choir, Symphonic Wind Ensemble and the Orchestra was also a treat triumph for this year’s ensemble.

The Chorale’s 48 members came from every aspect of life and had majors ranging from vocal performance to pharmacy. Directed by Dr. Michael Shasberger, the Chorale proved to be successful in every aspect of their curriculum.

"Dr. Shasberger is so enthusiastic," said first year member Carole Cornman. "That makes me enthusiastic and motivated to learn about every aspect of music."

"The people are so supportive," said sophomore Tymika Robinson. "There is love everywhere. It’s just like one big family."

"Everyone had a great time," Junior Elaine Miller said. "But we learn so much, that’s what makes it exciting."

“I guess I like being in the Chorale because being with other people who are such great musicians and who share my love for music makes music all that more fun,” said first year member Amie Charleson.

"The best thing about the Chorale is that there is this unexplainable bond," said fifth year member Najwa Loh. "It’s not just one voice, or two voices, or ten voices, it is an entire ensemble of people you love whose main focus is music. As for Dr. Shasberger, he makes it all happen. He demands our very best, and he doesn’t compromise. That is what makes us more than just singers, and makes us good musicians."

YMCA is a student organization that deals with campus and community services. They are responsible for such programs as Freshman Weekend, Geneva Stunts, Spring Sing, and the Butler Giving Tree.

SeniorS leave lasting impression

WANTED: Seniors to participate in senior challenge and help donate a lasting symbol to Butler.

After the call went out in early Fall of 1991, over 65 seniors volunteered to form the Senior Challenge Committee, chaired by Kristen Bishop. In October the committee submitted a list of ten gift ideas to President Bannister. Bannister then narrowed it down to three choices; a gazebo, a second Dawg pound, or the beautification of the 46th street entrance. The senior class then voted between those three suggestions and chose the beautification of the 46th street entrance.

In the Spring the volunteers spent six weeks on the fundraising campaign writing letters and calling other seniors for donations. The Senior Challenge was started two years ago as a way for seniors to donate money for future Butler purchases. The class of 1990 gave a fountain for the reflecting pool and the class of 1991 donated a black granite seal.

LISA CHRISTINE LOWER

We've dreamed of this day for so long. All our prayers have been answered; all your hard work and determination has paid off. You've reached your star, Baby! There's no holding you back! Look out world, here comes Lisa!!

All our love & pride,
Your Family

Outstanding!!

You needed your high school instruction.
"Got it; Get it".
Now that you need sunglasses.
"Make it and Bank it".
