

WHAT'S IN ? A NAME ! – Part II

STEVE KAHAN

Hollis Hills, New York

Some readers may have been disappointed when their appellations were not among the fifty that appeared in What's In? A Name ! (Word Ways, Volume 40, Number 3). To assuage hurt feelings, fifty more are now offered, divided evenly between the sexes for political correctness. As before, a four-letter name has been deleted from a word whose remaining letters have been compressed. For instance, siterate would become sEMILiterate when EMIL returns to his rightful place. Column A contains male names, while Column B contains those of females. See how many you can discover in order to restore Webster's original entries.
