Believe it or not, they are all correct! A 'calender' is a glazing machine, and 'legendry' is a collection of legends. The others are variant forms (non-standard, American, obsolete) of words listed in either Chambers Dictionary or Webster's Third Edition, parent dictionary to the American backup reference Webster's 10th Collegiate. All are allowed in Scrabble except the examples for H, I, Q, X and Z. 'Xosa' is a variant of 'Xhosa', a South African Bantu language.]
