The Amorphous Amoeba

Have we switched from linguistics to biology? No, not at all; we have merely taken a fanciful view of the irregularly shaped crossword puzzle diagram that follows.

The author of the crossword puzzle being presented at this point is Dr. Jean C. Sabine, of Belmont, California. Dr. Sabine has devised a puzzle noteworthy in several respects:

(1) Many of the definitions supplied appeal to the intellectual, drawn as they are from the realms of literature, science, and foreign languages;

(2) The shape of the diagram, instead of being an orthodox square or rectangle, is irregular, somewhat resembling an amoeba with pseudopodia projecting in various directions;

(3) The pattern is diagramless, thereby providing the would-be solver with a greater challenge, as well as eliminating the funereal appearance of the ordinary crossword that is scarred with blanked-out squares.

The definitions follow, for you to savor. The correct solution will be published in our next issue. As far as dictionary authorities are concerned, variety is the keynote. You have been warned....

WORD WAYS

Horizontal Clues

1. A victor
2. A serpent
3. To imitate
4. A unit
5. Prefix of
6. Structure
7. French "Et-
8. "Et-
9. French
10. "Et-
11. "Et-
12. "Et-
13. "Et-
14. "Et-
15. Death
Amoeba

...have merely
...is Dr. Jean
...noteworthy
...as they
...or rectangle,
...Projecting in
...solver with a
...ance of the
...will be pub-
...n, variety

"Amorphous Amoeba"

The Crossword Diagram

Horizontal Clues

1. A victorious letter.
2. A serpentine letter.
3. To immerse briefly.
4. A unit of resistance, in electricity.
5. Prefix denoting "upon" or "following."
6. Structure on prow, through which sail stays are passed.
7. French abbreviation for "nitrogen."
8. "Et ___" (an obsolete bibliographic abbreviation).
9. "...ulate" (a verb).

The Amorphous Amoeba

Dr. Jean C. Sabine
Belmont, California

The JOURNAL OF RECREATIONAL LINGUISTICS
18. Designating convergence of lines of equal magnetic force (shortened, as in professional jargon).
20. Road or street (Latin).
23. The 33rd State admitted to the Union.
26. A tropical fish not usually breeding in captivity.
29. Form of the verb "to be."
31. Suffix denoting sugar.
32. "... and all ___ red I'd killed the bird" (Coleridge).
35. Political party advocating racism, force, and totalitarian government.
36. Park (Latin).
37. Terrifying vehicles.
41. Reddened, as of skin (medical term).
45. Message from Highway Patrol or Scotland Yard (living words).
47. A gradual change in the zero reading of an instrument.
48. "... ___ ... spume" (Masefield).
51. A hand implement for threshing grain.
57. Chooses.
62. Any delicate color.
63. Members of an illustrious Indian family.
64. Done with "19 Vertical" in parliamentary procedure.
65. To render brilliant or gay.
68. English measure of length (plural).
70. An acid destroyed in the body except by humans and Dalmatian coach hounds.
72. Indefinite adjective, pronoun, or adverb.
73. Heroine of "The Rape of the Lock."
75. Adjective, pronoun, adverb, or conjunction.
76. A 16th-century spelling of "skull."
77. Daughter of Oceanus, when she was a young girl (two words).
81. With "75 Horizontal," hyphenated: indifferent, neither good nor bad.
83. Desirable holding in a bridge hand.
87. A short sentence, akin to "Let me alone!" (more than one word).
90. Micro-organism from the Greek name of which the word "enzyme" is derived.
95. Later surname of Vladimir Ilich Ulyanov.
97. River causing vast damage to art and literary treasures in 1966.
98. An erstwhile dictator.
100. Abbreviation indicating a Holy Scripture.
101. Preposition.
103. Common name for a ragout.
THE JOURNAL OF RECREATIONAL LINGUISTICS

THE AMORPHOUS AMOEBA

104. Another preposition.
105. Stupid and usually loquacious.
108. Singular of "106 Vertical."
109. A function of Pooh-Bah (Gilbert and Sullivan).
111. A mixture of gases.
113. A bovine castrated early in a short life.
114. Animal of the Family Cervidae.
115. Pronoun, second person.
117. Abbreviation for English equivalent of "chemin de fer."
118. Abrrary; also, the familiar appellation of the father in the play "John Ferguson."
119. A duct, in anatomy.
121. One that failed to detonate.
122. Broke faith by revealing or designating.
126. A choral musical composition.
128. With "to": employed an unaccustomed or desperate measure.
129. ______ de force.
130. A man's nickname.
131. A foot, in Latin.

Vertical Clues

1. Four stars.
2. Pronoun, third person.
3. Preposition (Latin, French, Spanish).
5. To accommodate or to compel.
6. Pronoun, first person.
10. Cinnamon, in German.
11. To encourage or incite.
12. Noxious air, formerly believed to cause malaria.
14. Runs in the same direction without converging upon.
15. Combining form denoting "bird."
16. Emblem or symbol.
17. Where traffic accidents occur.
19. A kind of mallet (see "62 Horizontal").
20. Famous palace and gardens.
22. Linking, especially of species, in biology.
23. An egg before formation of polar bodies (a German term in embryology).
24. Descriptive of good garden soil.
25. A square scarf.
27. An aperture for listening.
29. One of the higher alcohols.
30. Tumult or fury, in German.
35. Civilian attire.
36. Park in Colorado Rockies.
38. A period of historic time.
39. To possess legally.
40. Two Scandinavians (three words).
42. A large, domestic, female bird.
43. In spectroscopy, ___ as opposed to absorption.
44. Liquid lipid.
46. Reduplicated and hyphenated: admonition signifying "hands off!"
48. ___WRAP, a commercial product.
53. Any of several large districts into which Japan was formerly divided.
56. A preposition in English, but an adverb in Latin.
59. Interrogatory exclamation.
61. ___Lippo Lippi (ca. 1406-1469).
62. Suspended so as to swing freely.
65. A feminine proper name.
66. An episode of impaired health.
67. Tries to outdo.
69. In histology, a dye beloved of certain granules.
71. The opposite of "24 Vertical."
73. A nobleman, an academic degree, or "purchased" (abbreviation).
74. "Man of ___," documentary movie of strenuous, primitive life.
78. Pronoun, first person.
79. On the move while plying one's trade.
81. Transmitted by directing the eyes or the attention.
82. In comparative anatomy, the pterygoid bone of a bird.
84. Desist.
85. A planet.
86. Secured by money deposited or guaranteed.
89. ___den Linden.
91. Snicker___, property of the protagonist of "109 Horizontal."
92. Preposition of Anglo-Saxon origin.
93. A frog.
94. Pronoun, third person.
95. A snake, or a fur piece.
99. Shortest of declarative sentences (a contraction).
102. Gold, in French.
106. That is: abbreviated Latin.
107. A shade of brilliant, saturated green.
110. Form of address based on an academic degree, abbreviated.
112. Egyptian sun god.
115. Affirmative.
116. Combining form designating "ear."
120. Come to a halt, or arrest.
122. Of coals, of a river, of flowers, of oysters.
123. Same as "56 Vertical."
124. Archaic definite article.
125. A personage wielding a blue pencil, abbreviated.
127. Any shade of any color.
129. In regard to, also used with "in."

WORD WAYS

The relative and known. In the book BE matical related s from a b interesti
two, th
possible,

WORD

By ch

time, un related the four-let

Note th

PERMUT

The se