Answers to “Words Within Words” (page 245)

Answers to “The Word Watcher’s Test” (page 245)

1. ASPIRATE. Start at the beginning and lop off one letter at a time as you go along; you will always remain with a complete word: SPIRATE, PIRATE, IRATE, RATE, ATE, TE, E.

2. BILLOWY. The letters of this word are arranged in alphabetical order.

3. BOATHOUSE. You can divide the word into three 3-letter words unrelated to the original word either in meaning or in pronunciation: BOA, THO, USE.

4. BOOKKEEPER. This word features three consecutive pairs of like letters (OO, KK, EE).

5. BRIGHT-FACED. An 11-letter word including the first 9 letters of the alphabet.

6. CHOCOLATE. Write it twice, as follows: cHocOlaTe ChOCOlAte
   HOT COCOA is, of course, a synonym for CHOCOLATE.

7. COMMEMORATIVE. The consonants of this word are arranged in alphabetical order.

8. DEIFIED. A palindrome, reading the same backward as forward.

9. FACETIOUSLY. Includes all six of our vowels, arranged alphabetically.

10. HORSESHOEER. The last five letters duplicate the first five letters, but in a different order.

11. IDEALITY. A short word pronounced in five syllables.

12. NOWHERE. Can be divided into two words reversing its meaning: NOW HERE!
   Also, if you replace each letter with that letter one half the alphabet away, you convert NOWHERE into ABJURER.

13. PASTERN. Start at the end and lop off one letter at a time as you go along; you will always remain with a complete word: PASTERN, PASTER, PASTE, PAST, PAS, PA, P.

14. REPAIRS. You can rearrange the 7 letters of this word to spell at least 7 other words: ASPIRER, PAILERS, PARRIES, PRAISER, RAPIERS, RASP, and SPARRER (more sparing).

15. RIDICULOUS. Delete one “i” and rearrange the remaining letters into LUDICROUS: both words mean “absurd.”

16. SATAN. The symbol of evil; move the last letter into the middle of the first four and you have SANTA, the symbol of good.

17. SEQUOIA. A short word using all 5 vowels (A, E, I, O, U).

The Journal of Recreational Linguistics
18. STARTLINGS. Cancel one of the inside letters of this word, always leaving a complete word, until only the first and last letters remain: STARTINGS, STARINGS, STRINGS, STINGS, SINGS, SINS, SIS, SS.
19. STRENGTHS. One of the longest words employing only 1 vowel.
20. STRESSED. Read it backwards, and you have DESSERTS.
21. SWEETHEART. Consonants and vowels alternate; but in pairs.
22. UNCOPYRIGHTABLE. One of the longest words in which no individual letter is used more than once.
23. UNITED. The word means “joined.” Switch the two middle letters, and you have UNTIED, meaning “separated.”
24. UNORIENTAL. The five vowels A, E, I, O, U appear in reverse-alphabetical order in this comparatively short word.
25. USHERS. A word containing five common pronouns: US, SHE, HE, HER, HERS.
