Theme: Reform and Reformers in Hindu-Christian Perspective
2017 marks the 500th anniversary of Martin Luther’s (1483–1546) Theses and the genesis of the Protestant Reformation in Europe. In commemoration of this event, this panel will explore the categories of “Reform” and “Reformers” in the context of Hindu-Christian Studies by examining specific comparative cases in South Asia, from the 16th to the 20th centuries. The respondent will draw the case studies into conversation with one another and with key points of Luther’s theology.

Film and Panel: Dawn of the Abyss: The Spiritual Birth of Swamiji

The unique life of Henri Le Saux/Swami Abhishiktananda reveals the spiritual dynamism which lies in the encounter of Christianity with Hindu mysticism. Can this dynamism be brought into a film and speak to a public more than 40 years after the depicted events? What is the legacy of Abhishiktananda for our time of globalization and new policies of national and religious identity? What can be the role of mysticism, whether monastic or not monastic, today? Watch the trailer for the film at solarproductions.com.

Joint Session with the Comparative Theology Unit

Theme: Rāmānuja at 1000: The Heritage and Promise of the Study of Rāmānuja in a Christian-Hindu Comparative Theology

While the work of comparative theology is forward-looking and properly engaged in contemporary issues, it is also fittingly mindful of the history of the discipline. This panel takes the occasion of the 1000th birth anniversary of Rāmānuja (1017-1137), the great south Indian Srivaisnava Hindu theologian, to ponder how he has been drawn into Christian comparative theological study since at least the late 19th century. Rāmānuja has consistently attracted Christian theological attention for a variety of reasons: his strongly (mono)theistic reading of Vedanta; his rich understanding of God’s nature and qualities; his posing of a powerful alternative to nondualist Vedanta; his famed body-soul analogy; his rich theology of grace, toward a theology of surrender as “faith alone.” This panel explores his heritage in five different ways, in order to the notice the advantages and limitations of a focus on this one Hindu theologian.
