

The net as well builds his monument mockingly . . .

AND SORROWS: SPRING

For man will be blotted out, the blithe earth die, the brave sun die blind and blacken
to the heart:

Yet stones have stood for a thousand years,
and pained thoughts found
The honey of peace in old poems.

Manuscripts is published by the English Department of Butler University one each semester. The material is written mainly by students of the Freshman English, the Advanced Composition, the Creative Writing, and Writers' Workshop classes.

This issue of manuscripts is dedicated to our friend Lisa Nowak, without whose support over the past four years MSS would have perished.

Special thanks also to John Barnes, for his invaluable help with photography.
