

Sublimation

by Charley Adams

Her words melt,
 Drift,
And turn to vapour,
Frosting on thought
Like the grass —
Becoming white
With the rain of the moon
In winter.