-Poem-

by Catherine Mason

There's a
stone
under water

The water
presses
down

Pressing down upon
my body

My body
makes the sound

A sound
like the metal

Metal which cuts
into the red

The red that is
my life

The life
above
the wave
