

NAME DROPPINGS

ANIL

Perth, Australia

In the November 1994 Kickshaws Peter Newby introduced a style of punning on well-known names of the form "Was Franchot Tone deaf? Was Vincent Price conscious?", calling them logomotives. Here's my three cents worth (would Lotte Lenya threepenny)?

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| Did Yassir Arafat promise?                              | Is Alexander Graham Bell a dead ringer?   |
| Is Karen Black balled?                                  | Was Jorge Luis Borges gorgeous?           |
| Is David Bowie or girl?                                 | Was Benjamin Britten personified?         |
| Was John Brown nosy?                                    | Was Johnny Cash strapped?                 |
| Was James Dean swift?                                   | Was Daniel Defoe? (Or François Truffaut?) |
| Is Sandy Dennis a menace?                               | Are Bruce and Laura Dern good actors?     |
| Did James Garner support?                               | Was Hans Geiger counterproductive?        |
| Did Jean Genet say "Pa"? [French]                       | Is Margo Kidder serious?                  |
| Was Klein on the bottle?                                | Was Peter Lorre driven?                   |
| Did Möbius strip?                                       | Is Demi or Roger Moore talented?          |
| Did John Newcomb with his serves?                       | Is Kim Novak yum?                         |
| Is Michael a Palin drone?                               | Was James Polk slow?                      |
| Was Ezra Pound foolish?                                 | Was Saint Peter the Great Pumpkin Eater?  |
| Was Anthony Quinn essential?                            | Did Paul Revere silver?                   |
| Would Rin Tin Tin pan alley cats?                       | Does Sissy Spacek cite viewers?           |
| Is Donald Sutherland Canada?                            | Is Spencer Tracy bone? [French]           |
| Was Joanne Woodward drawn and quartered?                | Is Dyan Cannon balled?                    |
| Was George Washington Carver a Mount Rushmore sculptor? |   |

Now a reversal of style, spelling out the phonetic pun instead of the name, which you must deduce.

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| Was Francis a sissy for loving animals?       | Did Lionel or Ethel bury more plays?   |
| Was Julius seizer of power?                   | Is Kirk or Michael dug less?           |
| Was Alan or John Foster dullest?              | Was Faye done away with?               |
| Was Irene done?                               | Is Umberto ecological?                 |
| Was Mia pharaoh of Egypt?                     | Did Federico feel any limit?           |
| Is Carrie fish or mammal?                     | Did Kurt girdle logic?                 |
| Is Billy gram-negative?                       | Had Kathryn grace and charm?           |
| What did Franz Josef hide 'n' seek?           | What made James joystick?              |
| Was Danny KOed?                               | Is Kim ill sung?                       |
| Did Marshall make clue-in?                    | Was Spike-'m ill again?                |
| Was Ogden nationalist? [analyst]              | Did Richard nix an appeal to honesty?  |
| Was Thomas pain-free?                         | Is Christopher revitalized? [idolized] |
| Did the Cardinal rich loo have gold fixtures? | I bet Martin scores easy               |
| Did Joseph stall in moral development?        | Was Alan touring the brain?            |
| Did Mao say tongue twisters?                  | What caused Mark to wane?              |
| Does John "up" dike causes?                   | Is Tuesday well devolved?              |
| Is Ellen burstin' at the seams?               |  |