

DEFINITIVE ANAGRAMS: J-L

ANIL

Perth, Australia

Continued from the November 2004 Word Ways. Because of the large number of new pre-J catch-up words this article rightly should be called "A-L". But no, tradition prevails over logic yet again, the three previous articles being A-C, D-F and G-I.

Verbs are capitalised and punctuated as if sentences unless they also work as nouns or adjectives. [p] = palindromes (Most such were removed to the "synonyms" article in the May 2005 issue.)
