

NON-STANDARD CONJUGATIONS

ANDY LIU

Edmonton, Alberta Canada

Example of Standard Conjugation: Ring, Rang, Rung.

Example of Sub-Standard Conjugation: Bring, Brang, Brung.

The chick tries to check into the male hostel but they chuck her out.

When he got sick, he got the sack as he refused to suck up to the boss.

One can lick life's problems, despite a lack of industry, with a little bit of luck.

Paraphrase of Alfred P. Dolittle, in My Fair Lady.

The entomologist is carrying a big bag of bugs.

Armenians are well-known for being able to rig some rags into a rug.

Give him a ham sandwich if he promises not to hum that horrible tune ever again.

The Eskimos travel far searching for fur.

Seeing the quake survivors limp under the lamp brings a lump to his throat.

As a "Hig!" escaped from his throat, the drunkard gave the old hag a big hug.

"Hig!" is sometimes spelt as "Hic!"

With both hips injured, the quarterback hops into the huddle and bellows out "Hups!"

Quarterbacks are always bellowing out: "Hup one! Hup two!"

Dick looks all over the deck of the cruise ship for his pet duck.

Bill tied the bell around the neck of the bull.

Bill was not a mouse, or he would be belling the cat.

The icky Aggie is ugly.

A little kid contributed this item to make it a baker's dozen. It is sub-standard but also non-standard!