Martin Gardner died on Saturday, May 22, 2010. He was 95. It was at his behest that Word Ways was founded in 1968, and thus every issue of our journal will remain a memorial to him.

Our correspondent, Dana Richards, maintains a growing Bibliography of Gardner and is in the process of writing Gardner’s biography. In this current issue of Word Ways we are moved to reprint several contributions of Gardner’s including his two early Kickshaws so that David Morice can devote this time to the “Iowa City Project”. We will continue to print items still in our files from our founder Martin Gardner.
